Bamboo.

This wonderful plant, so invaluable to eastern nations, is gradually gaining favor with us as useful as well as ornamental. In our more southern states it grows with as great vigor and rapidity as in Japan, and there is no reason why varieties for both use and ornament should not be profitably grown in quantity. We give herewith a descriptive list, comprising all Japanese sorts, with their respective Japanese names.

Davallia bullata. The roots of this Fern are worked by the cunning Japanese into curious shapes—balls, globes, rings, ships, birds, and other novel and interesting forms, which render the plant very curious and attractive when covered with young fronds in spring. PALMS.

CYCAS REVOLUTA.

These Palms are imported in a dormant state, with roots and fronds cut off, and we can deliver from February to May. As our collector leaves for the southern islands of the Japan Sea at the end of November, all orders should be in by that time, as we do not import any large quantity over orders, and these stems cannot be kept on hand. This applies especially to larger orders.

We guarantee our stock to be the best in the market—true Longifolia, with well-developed hearts. Stems are sold by weight, customers giving sizes wanted. Best terms for quantities on application. Will develop magnificent leaf-crowns, if placed on bottom heat, in two to three months. Samples of small stems can be sent by mail, or four-pound packages by express. If you want your full money's worth of this grand Palm, write us and we will send full particulars.
